REPORT FOR FEBRUARY.

During the month of February there were received at the Library, by purchase, 655 volumes and 760 pamphlets, and by gift, 2,047 volumes and 1,655 pamphlets.

There were catalogued 4,225 volumes and 4,786 pamphlets, for which purpose 19,616 cards and 2,010 slips for the printer were written.

The following table shows the number of readers, and the number of volumes consulted, in both the Astor and Lenox Branches of the Library, also the number of visitors to the New York City History Exhibit at the Lenox, during the month:

	LENOX.	ASTOR.
No. of readers and visitors.....	2,637	9,511
No. of readers, desk applicants.....	1,222	8,174
No. of volumes consulted by applicants.....	5,131	45,079
Daily average of readers.....	109	396
Number of visitors N. Y. C. History Exhibit	4,047

Statistics for the circulation department for the month of February are given on the following page. Excluding books for children, the books in greatest demand for circulation during the month of February were, in fiction, "Eben Holden" by Bacheller, "Eleanor" by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, and "Alice of Old Vincennes" by Maurice Thompson. In works of non-fiction, these were Huxley's Life and Letters, Stedman's "American Anthology," Rostand's "L'Aiglon," Mrs. Seton-Thompson's "Woman Tenderfoot," Brook's "Story of the Nineteenth Century," Seton-Thompson's "Wild Animals I have Known," and Scidmore's "China the Long-Lived Nation."

The following letter from Mr. Andrew Carnegie was laid before the board of trustees at its meeting on 13 March:

NEW YORK, 12th March, 1901.

DR. JOHN S. BILLINGS,
Director, New York Public Library.

DEAR DR. BILLINGS:

Our conferences upon the needs of Greater New York for Branch Libraries to reach the masses of the people in every district have convinced me of the wisdom of your plans.

Sixty-one branches strike one at first as a very large order, but as other cities have found one necessary for every sixty or seventy thousand of population the number is not excessive.

You estimate the average cost of these libraries at, say, $80,000 each, being $5,200,000 for all. If New York will furnish sites for these branches for the special benefit of the masses of the people, as it has done for the Central Library, and also agree in satisfactory form to provide for their maintenance as built, I should esteem it a rare privilege to be permitted to furnish the money as needed for the buildings, say $5,200,000. Sixty-five libraries at one stroke probably breaks the record, but this is the day of big operations and New York is soon to be the biggest of cities.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) ANDREW CARNEGIE.

This communication was transmitted to the Mayor with the following letter:

NEW YORK, 15th March, 1901.

HON. ROBERT A. VAN WYCK,
Mayor, &c., &c.

DEAR SIR:

By direction of the Board of Trustees of The New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations, I have the honor to hand you herewith a copy of a letter which we received, through our Director Dr. John S. Billings, from Mr. Andrew Carnegie, on the 13th inst., the day of his sailing for Europe.

You will observe that Mr. Carnegie offers to bear the expense of building a large number of branch libraries, at an estimated total cost of five million, two hundred thousand dollars, provided the City will furnish the necessary land, and provided satisfactory arrangements can be made for the maintenance of these branches. There are no other conditions.

I am instructed to say that if the City authorities look with favor upon the general plan, our Board of Trustees will hold itself in readiness to co-operate, in every way possible, in furthering the beneficent purposes which are the object of Mr. Carnegie's munificent offer.

It is understood that Mr. Carnegie's offer is intended to apply to the entire City. The methods and agencies of administering branches in Boroughs other than Manhattan and the Bronx, may well be left to be settled hereafter.

I am further instructed to say that, in communicating Mr. Carnegie's proposal to our Board, Dr. Billings accompanied it with the following statement:

"In the conferences referred to by Mr. Carnegie, the suggestions which I have made have related mainly to a free public library system for the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

"I have stated that such a system should include the great central reference library on 42d Street and 5th Avenue, about 40 branch libraries for circulation, small distributing centres in those public school buildings which are adapted to such purpose, and a large travelling library system operated from the central building. Each of the branch libraries should contain reading rooms for from 50 to to 100 adults, and for from 75 to 125 children, and in these reading rooms should be about 500 volumes of encyclopædias, dictionaries, atlases, and large and important reference books. There should be ample telephone and delivery arrangements between the branches and the central library. To establish this system would require at least five years. The average cost of the branch libraries I estimated at from $75,000 to $125,000, including sites and equipment. The cost of maintaining the system, when completed, I estimated at $500,000 per year. The circulation of books for home use alone in these Boroughs should amount to more than 5,000,000 of volumes per year, and there should be at least 500,000 volumes in the circulation departments, with additions of new books, and to replace worn-out books, of at least 40,000 per year.

"With regard to the other Boroughs of Greater New York, I have made no special plans or estimates, but have said that about 25 libraries would be required for them.

"The following are some of the data which I have furnished Mr. Carnegie. The population figures are those of the last census.

"Boston, with 560,892 people, has 15 branch libraries and reading rooms, and 14 delivery stations, and appropriates $288,641 for library purposes, being at the rate of over 50 cents per head of population, and of about 2 5/10 one hundredths of one per cent. on the assessed value of property.

"Chicago has 1,698,575 people, 6 branch libraries and 60 delivery stations, besides stations in the public schools, and appropriates $263,397 for library purposes, being at the rate of 15 5/10 cents per head of population, and seven one hundredths of one per cent. of the assessed value of property.

"Buffalo has 352,387 people and appropriates $145,238 for library purposes, being at the rate of 41 cents per head of population, and five one hundredths of one per cent. on the assessed value of property.

"New York City (Borough of Manhattan and the Bronx), has 2,050,600 population, and appropriates $183,935 for library purposes, being at the rate of 8 9/10 cents per head of population, and 6/10 one hundredths of one per cent. on the assessed value of property.

"Greater New York has 3,437,202 population, and appropriates $299,663 for library purposes, being at the rate of 8 4/10 cents per head of population, and 8/10 one hundredths of one per cent. on the assessed value of property.

"The contract made by the City of Buffalo with the Buffalo Public Library, under the provisions of Chapter 16 of the Laws of 1897 of the State of New York, is worth careful examination in connection with the question of how best to provide for maintenance of a free public library system for New York City."

I am,

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) G. L. RIVES,

Secretary.

A letter has been received from Prof. E. R. A. Seligman, on behalf of himself and a number of other gentlemen, announcing the gift to the Library of $300 for the purpose of increasing the collection in the Russian Department.

The statement of the articles of agreement between the New York Public Library and the New York Free Circulating Library was filed with the Secretary of State at Albany on February 23d, and at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees on February 25th, the organization, under these articles of consolidation, was perfected.

Dr. Markoe resigned from the Board of Trustees on account of ill-health and inability to attend the meetings and Mr. W. W. Appleton was elected a trustee in his place. A special committee on circulation and the work of the branch libraries was elected, consisting of Judge Henry E. Howland, Mr. Frederic W. Stevens, Mr. J. Frederic Kernochan, Mr. Charles Scribner, Mr. Francis C. Huntington, Mr. Alexander Maitland, and Mr. W. W. Appleton.

The act permitting the consolidation of libraries in New York was signed by the Governor and became a law on March 7th. Under this act any library is authorized to transfer all its real and personal property to the New York Public Library upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the two institutions, and the Regents of the University of the State of New York, on being satisfied that this has been done, may accept a surrender of the charter of the library corporation so conveying its property and discharge its directors or trustees from their trusts in the premises. This does away with the necessity which previously existed, in case of consolidation, of starting an entirely new corporation, with election of officers, passage of by-laws, opening of a new set of treasury books, etc.

Contract No. 2, for the construction of the boiler vaults of the new library building, was awarded to the lowest bidder, Herman Probst, on March 8th. The Department of Public Parks has advertised for bids on the main contract, known as Contract No. 3, for the New York Public Library building. Generally this contract will include all mason work, marble work for the exterior and portions of the interior, roofing, steel construction and fire-proofing.

It is purposed to use white marble for the exterior of the building on all four façades and also on the court façades, and a specially selected grade of white marble for the interior work. The bidding has been so arranged that propositions may be submitted for any variety of white marble, thus leaving the Trustees, architects, and the Park Department to select the material which shall seem most advantageous, both in quality and cost; the specifications provide, however, very carefully for the use of marble, excluding any of the materials commonly used as marble, but which really are nothing but inferior grades of dolomite subject to discoloration by the chemical action of the atmosphere. The material used must be a recognized marble or a dolomite of such high character and so free from magnesia, which is the cause of the discoloration, as to be almost classed as a pure marble. The bids on this contract will be opened on April 11th; the amount of security required is $500,000, and the time allowed for the completion of the work will be two years and six months.

The model of the new library building is now on exhibition at the Lenox Branch of the Library, 70th St. and 5th Ave., where it will remain until about April 10th.

The following public school buildings have been selected by the School Board for the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx as locations for the proposed reading rooms, and the Board is now engaged in fitting up these rooms, the books for which are to be furnished by the New York Public Library, namely:

East Side: Public School No. 30, East 88th Street; Public School No. 160, Rivington and Suffolk Streets; Public School No. 177, Market and Monroe Streets.

West Side: Public School No. 119, West 133d Street; Public School No. 33, West 28th Street; Public School No. 44, Hubert and Collister Streets.

Bronx: Public School No. 90, 163d Street and Eagle Avenue; Public School No. 155, Tremont Avenue, near 177th Street.

The exhibit at the Lenox Branch, of material relating to the history of the City of New York, was continued until March 23rd; on the 25th the collection of Japanese prints and chromo-xylographs, presented by Mr. Charles Stewart Smith, was placed on exhibition. At the Astor Branch the exhibition of plates of colonial silver and armor has given way to plates from the "Necropolis of Ancon in Peru," and the Stevens facsimile of the British Headquarters manuscript map of New York and vicinity in 1782.

The more important gifts of books received during the month were as follows:

From Mrs. Gertrude King Schuyler, a collection of Russian books, numbering 497 volumes and 68 pamphlets, being from the library of her husband, the late Eugene Schuyler, author of the "History of Peter the Great" and other works on Russia. The collection is especially strong in works of an historical nature, comprising sets of the "Russki Archiv" from the beginning, 1864 to 1888; and of the "Russkaya Starina" from the beginning, 1870 to 1889; besides other works by well-known authors, relating to the history of Russia in Europe, and also of Russia in Central Asia; a number of works relating to Russian Church history, and ecclesiastical affairs of the Greek Church in general; many important genealogical works; several important philological treatises, and works on the manners and customs of the Tunguzs, besides good editions of the collected works of such authors as Dal', Sakharov, Pushkin, Turgeniev, etc. Ivan Zakharov's Manchurian-Russian Dictionary (St. Petersburg, 1875) has a special interest because of the presentation inscription in the handwriting of the author: "Pochitatel'nyu Russkoi Literatury, osobenno Vostochnoi, grazhdaninu i predstavitel'nyu velikoi S.A. Respubliki Yevgeniyu Yegorovichu Schuyler'u ot sostavitelya Iv. Zakarova (i.e., to the admirer of Russian literature, especially of the Eastern, the citizen and representative of the Great North-American Republic, Eugene Egorovich Schuyler).

From the estate of S. V. R. Townsend, through Howard Townsend, were received 386 volumes of a general character.

From Mrs. E. N. Vanderpoel was received a collection of about 300 MSS. of Aaron Vanderpoel, relating to his law practice in New York City in 1830-40, dealing mainly with real estate practice, and more particularly with the settlement of the estate of John Flack; also two pamphlets and one volume relating to New York.

Other important gifts were: From Charles Francis Adams, 1 pamphlet written by his father, entitled, "An appeal from the new to the old Whigs, in consequence of the Senate's course and particularly of Mr. Webster's . . . by a Whig of the old school," Boston, 1835; from S. P. Avery, 29 volumes, 6 pamphlets, and 127 prints; from the Belgian Ministers of Justice and of Foreign Affairs, 22 volumes; from the City of Brussels, 28 volumes relating to the city government; from Hon. Joseph H. Choate, 1 volume, being his address on Lincoln before the Edinburgh Philosophical Institution, November 13, 1900; from Mrs. Amelia P. Clement, 8 volumes, being Brooklyn documents, the first response to the notice of the Library's wants in Brooklyn documents printed in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle; from Baron Pierre de Coubertin, "La chronique de France," published under his direction; from William E. Dodge, 19 volumes and 12 pamphlets; from Mrs. Henry Draper, a copy of the "Revolution Française ou analyse complete et impartiale du moniteur, 1801-1802," extra-illustrated with portraits taken from the "Tableaux Historique de la Revolution Française;" from John Durand, a specially bound volume containing 90 original drawings designed for bank-note vignettes by A. B. Durand, his father, together with an engraved powder horn; from E. D. French, 25 book-plates, executed by himself; from R. Swain

Gifford, 8 of his own etchings; from J. J. Higginson, 2 volumes, "The Necropolis of Ancon in Peru;" from the daughters of the late Rev. E. W. Gilman, D.D., 20 volumes of the "Congregational Quarterly," and about 24 volumes of the "Bibliotheca Sacra;" from Cyrus J. and Richard H. Lawrence, 52 volumes, publications of the Archæological Institute of America; from Cornelius B. Mitchell, 19 volumes of old newspapers, "The New York Mirror," the "Journal of Humanity;" from the Mitchell Library, Glasgow, 3 volumes and 44 pamphlets, all documents of the City of Glasgow; from the Police Department of New York City, 217 volumes, chiefly copies of the "City Record;" from the New York Times, 92 volumes; from the New York Tribune, 23 volumes, all public documents; from Hon. Robert P. Porter, 64 volumes and 311 pamphlets, relating to tariff, etc.; from the Queensland Legislative Council, 71 volumes; and from Henry Osborn Taylor, a copy of his recent work, "The Classical Heritage of the Middle Ages."

LIST OF LOANS TO THE EXHIBITION OF NEW YORK CITY HISTORY.

* * The Exhibition of books, manuscripts, maps, plans, views, etc., relating to the History of New York City, comprising about 430 pieces, arranged in fifty showcases, was opened to public view on January 19, and was closed March 22. The material in this Exhibition, belonging to the New York Public Library, is included in the Classified Lists of New York City books, now in course of publication in the Bulletin. A number of very rare and interesting pieces were loaned by friends of the Library, and are described below.

This is one of the original impressions of the earliest map of New York City, engraved and printed in the same, and popularly known as "The Bradford Map," from which so many so-called "facsimiles" have been made, commencing with that in 1834 by G. Hayward, lithographer, and referred to on page 66 of the Bulletin.

From the Bank of the Manhattan Company.

A section of the wooden water-pipe for supplying the City of New York with water, laid by the Manhattan Company in 1801, pursuant to its incorporated rights and charter granted in 1799. This piece was dug up in front of the Home Insurance Company on Broadway, in 1888.

From E. D. Church.

A New Map of the Harbour of New York by a late Survey. Size: 12 x 10 inches. Scale: not given. Engraved on copper. [New York: Wm. Bradford, 1735.] Backed silk.

The first engraved map of New York Harbor; engraved and printed by Wm. Bradford, by whom also it was advertised in No. 491 of the New York Gazette, March 24, 1734 [z. e. 1735], and several subsequent numbers. It shows "The Soundings, and setting of the Tydes, and the bearings of the most remarkable Places, with the Proper Places for Anchorage," and was bound up with the first printed edition of the Montgomerie Charter of the City, printed by J. Card (A). New-York, September 9th, 1774. The thanks of the public are presented to those worthy citizens, who have, to their immortal honour, nobly refused to let their vessels for the base purpose of transporting troops, ammunition, &c., to oppress the brave defenders of American liberty, who are already suffering in the common cause. Such patriotic conduct merits applause, as much as a contrary one would the contempt and indignation of every generous mind. [New York, 1774.] 1 page. 16°. L

— Police Department.

Before the passage of "An Act for the establishment and regulation of the police of the City of New York," May 7, 1844, the jurisdiction thereby authorized was maintained by the mayor, recorder and aldermen, acting as justices of the peace. See Acts of Mch. 2, 1798, ch. 24; 21 March, 1800, ch. 25; April 9, 1813, ch. 86, sec. 22-43; March 26, 1832, ch. 58; Jan. 23, 1833, ch. 11; 1835, ch. 151; constitution, 1821, art. 4, sec. 14; ordinance passed May 2, 1839.

By passage of "An Act to establish a Metropolitan Police District, and to provide for the government thereof" (15 Apr., 1857), the state legislature put the control of the police in charge of a State board of commissioners, and for this period the reports of the New York city police were made to this Board.

Control of the police was given to the City by the act passed April 5, 1870, entitled "An Act to reorganize the local government of the City of New York," under which the police department was controlled until 1901. This act was amended by chap. 335, laws of 1873, entitled "An Act to reorganize the local government of the City of New York," passed April 30, 1873, and by chap. 378, laws of 1897, entitled "An Act to unite into one municipality under the corporate name of the City of New York...", passed May 4, 1897.

The Board of Police Justices had its origin in the acts of March 2, 1798, chap. 24, and of the 21 March, 1800, chap. 35, which established a police office in the city, with two justices and a clerk, to be appointed in the character of special justices to that duty. The first printed report was issued in 1874. On June 30, 1895, the Board of Police Justices was abolished, and in its stead was established the Board of City Magistrates.

By virtue of sec. 18 of the charter of 1849, the Law Department was established as an executive department, "which shall have charge of and conduct all the law business of the corporation and of the departments thereof." The chief officer is called corporation counsel, and subsidiary bureaus were established, the chief officers of which are entitled the corporation attorney and the public administrator. The annual report of the corporation counsel is made pursuant to the ordinance organizing this city department, passed May 30, 1849, which provides that the counsel to the corporation shall, on the twentieth day of December of each year, report to the Common Council. This provision was re-included in the ordinance passed June 30, 1857, reorganizing the Law Department.
